Albin de Beauregard resigns as CFO of Kindred

Kindred Group's CFO, Albin de Beauregard, has decided to step down from his role and leave Kindred Group during the first quarter of 2020. The process to find a new permanent CFO has started.

Kindred Group's Chief Financial Officer (CFO), Albin de Beauregard, has taken the decision to leave Kindred Group during the first quarter of 2020 following eight successful years within the Group, with four of those years as CFO. Albin will continue to oversee the closing of the 2019 financial year. Graham Stretch, former CFO at Kindred Group, will provide support during the transition period and assist in the recruitment of a new permanent CFO.

"It is with regret that Albin has informed me of his intention to step down from his role as CFO to pursue new challenges outside of the industry. Albin leaves Kindred in a strong position for future growth, and a professional team that provides a solid platform to support the Group's continued development", says Henrik Tjärnström, CEO Kindred Group.
